Judge A. M. J. Cochran was in Covington Tuesday arranging his Court docket.

A coal train reaching from Limestone street to the C. and O. Depot was lying on the siding this morning.

Mr. J. Caproni, who left here several months ago for Italy, returned this morning, bringing with him a young bride.

At last night's meeting of the Elks there were four initiations, three new members were elected and seven applications for membership received.

Judge M. C. Hutchins has moved his office across the street and is now occupying a second story room in the Frank Building, Court street.

It is rumored in Court circles that a law firm consisting of Hons. E. L. Worthington, W. H. Wadsworth and W. D. Cochran is about to be formed.

The briefs in the case of Caleb Powers, under death sentence for the Coehel murder, have been filed in the Court of Appeals and the case submitted.

M. C. Russell Co.'s transfer wagon horse is the best that money could buy. It is an Ohio product—is a cross between a thoroughbred and a percheron.

Judge Doniphan of Augusta, Hon. Paul Hefflin of Flemingsburg, and ex-Senator E. L. Worthington of this city, are now full-blown Elks—especially Mr. Hefflin.

The Court of Appeals yesterday sustained the motion for oral argument filed in the case of the American Book Company v. C. D. Wells, County Superintendent, from this county.

Miss Estella Nash of East Fourth street entertained the young ladies of the Graduating Class of the City High School of 1903 with a six o'clock dinner yesterday evening.

The Appellate Court affirmed the $3,000 damage judgment against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad in favor of the Administratrix of Lewis Mufinger, who was killed at Paris.

In the suit of the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company v. McCabe, from this county, an agreement was filed in the Court of Appeals and the parties given until May 20th to file brief.

The Cincinnati Post this morning had a pretended likeness of the Rev. F. W. Harrop, one of Kentucky's representatives at the General Conference of the M. E. Church now in session at Los Angeles, Cal.

Dan Manns of this city is one of two heirs to valuable property in Pike street, Cincinnati. The square in which it is located is being condemned for a railroad. The appraisers allowed $2,000 for one piece and $6,000 for another—$8,000. Dan returned yesterday from the city and is somewhat elated over his good fortune, his portion being $4,000.

Our stock of Cut Glass is larger than we care to carry at this season. In order to reduce this large stock we recognize the necessity of making it an object to prospective customers. Commencing today we make the greatest reduction ever offered. Call and look. No trouble to show you. P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

The new Republican State Central Committee organized yesterday at Louisville by electing R. P. Ernet of Covington, Chairman; George W. Welsh of Danville, Vice Chairman, and Clint McClarty of Louisville, Treasurer. The election of a Secretary was postponed. C. M. Barnett retired as Chairman, after eight years' service.

The discolored eye and disfigured face that Brother W. H. Ryder is exposing to view is not in consequence of his attending the dance at Limestone Hall Monday night. The other evening as he was coming out of his place of business in Sutton street he slipped on the iron door plate and the pavement flew up and struck him in the face. This explanation is made that there may be no misconstructions.

NARROW ESCAPE!

Mr. and Mrs. Blatterman in An Auto Smash at St. Louis

A dispatch from St. Louis to THE LEDGER last night stated that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blatterman narrowly escaped death in an automobile collision in that city.

Mr. Blatterman's many friends here will be glad to know that he and his wife were spared, though their auto would prove a valuable contribution to a junkshop.

MRS. JACOB D. RILEY.

AN APPRECIATION.

The death of Mrs. Riley has removed a fascinating form and figure from that classic region which has long been renowned for the charms and excellencies of its women. Though the suddenness of her decease has been sincerely mourned, it is gratifying to know that she passed away in the fullness of her powers, after a very brief period of weakness and suffering.

A recent visit, while she still remained for inviting home, confirmed the impressions of earlier years and gave evidence of the development and maturity of the personal graces which her youth had so hopefully promised. Though bowing under the shadow of a great grief, her (recently) womanly, self-poised cheerfulness and simplicity revealed her as a favored daughter of Mason county, and a salutary specimen of the mellowed fruit of its culture and gentleness. She was a product of the refinement which the civilization of simple American country life could furnish in the latter part of the nineteenth century. There was a rhythmic tone about her movements and she was the embodiment of the dignity and courtliness of the well remembered old school of Kentuckian womanhood.

She had risen with sublime courage from the deep waters of an overwhelming sorrow, and was preparing to confront life with a new revelation of character in which there reigned a singular combination of tenderness, discretion and generosity. The gentle helpfulness of an honored husband, the long felicity and unbroken harmony of a true and benign union was gone. Throughout his career she had been his constant stay and support, and in his influence and labors she took an unflinching interest and pride. Thereafter the surpassing wealth and ardor of her nature, and the passing wealth and ardor of her nature, clustered around and gathered over an only son who was "the expectancy and rose" of her hopes. With her departure, this youth becomes the heir to an affluence of paternal and maternal virtues, which should stimulate to high ideals and evolve a life instinct with noble purpose and worthy accomplishment. The argument of example is potent.

The condolence in the death of Mrs. Riley will be widespread even if it were limited to those who are bound in the ties of consanguinity, for the homes of her kindred are scattered over her native state and are found in distant regions, North and South, in the farthest East and the remotest West. When she was cut off like a flower of the field and the sad intelligence was spread among this wide-connection, a sudden grief fell upon them, as they realized with indescribable regret, that of the life which was a constant joy and inspiration, and a source of perennial interest, nothing remained on earth save the glowing memory of the loved and lost. But his circle of relationship does not limit the influence of a character which was adorned with every womanly grace, every beautiful quality and every superior qualification. Nor does any circumstance limit the power of a life which was the sweetest echo of the Gospel and the surest guide to honor: a life every moment of which was a witness to the assiduity and sincerity of a heart full of love for her kind.

Many in distant places will turn with streaming eyes to recall with emotions of gratitude and admiration and homage the unforgetting benefits which have flowed from her generous hand. Her beneficence had that rare delicacy of feeling which never humiliates but rather preserves the self-respect of the recipient.

The moral beauty of her nature invoked the warm devotion of her friends; they loved her in life and will cherish her in enduring affection, and will always remember her with the fond sympathy and kindly tenderness which she called forth from all who came under the spell of her engaging personality. Her alluring spirit in its celestial flight will become a consummate flower of exquisite beauty and redeeming radiance, wooing the heart with its heavenly charm and thrilling the soul with the sweet and precious odors of its immortal fragrance.

Another hand is beckoning us,
Another call is given;
And glows once more with Angel steps
The path that reaches Heaven.

Fold her, O Father, in Thine arms,
And let her beneficence be
A messenger of love between
Our human hearts and Thee.

L. M. LAWSON,
New York, April, 1904.

THE FAUSTS' MINSTRELS

Gov. Bowen, "The Kentucky Whirlwind," who last season made such a tremendous hit from coast to coast, will appear in this city at the Opera-house on Monday, May 9th, with the Ted E. Faust Superb Minstrels. Mr. Bowen will do principal end and have charge of the dancing. As a dancer he takes top rank. Gov. Bowen as an end man is strikingly original. His jokes come fast and the newness of them was his instant favor. His Negro songs excel. He has the dialect of the Southern darkey to a nicety. When out of season he has the pickaninies sing and dance for him at his Southern home and in this way keeps himself strictly up-to-date. Seats on sale at Ray's Saturday morning.

If you want to keep "posted," read the advertisements in THE LEDGER. They are a part of Maysville's daily local history.

Just a Few Words About our spring stock and spring business: From all sections of the country you hear rumors of dull trade mainly attributed to the long continued phenomenal cool weather. Now we know that so far spring clothing has not been needed, but our present stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Wear is so irresistible in styles, qualities and prices that our people just had to buy after looking at them. The same holds good with our SHOES. GOOD SHOES were needed in Maysville. We bought that kind—Hanan and Douglas—and we are selling them. LOOK AT OUR MAY OFFERINGS IN OUR NEXT AD.

HOLY SMOKE! Where did The Times-Star get that tin-type that it had the gall to put handsome SAM ROBERTS's name under?

THE warrant for $40,000,000 to pay for the Panama Canal will be the largest draft that has ever been drawn on the United States Treasury. New York bankers are somewhat amused at Mr. Shaw's desire to pay the whole warrant at once and thereby go on record as having signed the biggest warrant ever drawn.

SEVERAL New York Preachers have defended Sunday baseball, and the Courts of that city have declared Sunday games legal. After all, it is not as bad as having to spend your Sunday afternoon in Bowery dives—and that's where thousands of young men—and girls too—would be, if there were no out-of-door attractions. Residents of country towns should understand that the conditions are altogether different in a city of two million people.

THE battles on the Yalu have shown the absence of need for intervention on behalf of Japan. She is not only able to care for herself, but to drive the Cossack back to St. Petersburg and compel terms of peace to be signed there instead of at Tokyo, as Viceroy ALEXIEFF insisted would be the only program of peace allowable on the part of His Royal and Imperial and Most Gracious Master, the Czar. Manifestly, a new power has appeared on the horizon of the world, commanding respect, and able to command it where it may be refused.

The Commercial Tribune a few days ago had an article showing the expenditures of the principal Governments of the world, with the per capita cost. The wealthiest in all the world, the gratification will be in the showing that the per capita cost of the Government of the United

of Expense.

States is the lowest of all—the figures being taken from the latest bulletin of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and it would put partisanship to its stumps to find a peg whereon to hang a complaint against them:

Countries.	Population.	Expenditure.	Per Cap.
New Zealand . . . . .	788,000	$ 30,241,000	$38 38
Australia . . . . .	3,772,000	142,148,000	37 69
United Kingdom . . . . .	41,961,000	897,790,000	21 39
France . . . . .	38,962,000	695,250,000	17 84
Belgium . . . . .	6,694,000	116,500,000	17 40
Paraguay . . . . .	636,000	11,007,000	17 30
Austria-Hungary . . . . .	45,405,000	647,969,000	14 27
Argentina . . . . .	4,794,000	69,757,000	12 68
Cuba . . . . .	1,573,000	19,515,000	12 40
Netherlands . . . . .	5,347,000	61,468,000	11 49
Portugal . . . . .	5,429,000	62,170,000	11 45
Spain . . . . .	18,618,000	187,846,000	10 09
Sweden . . . . .	5,199,000	49,593,000	9 54
German Empire . . . . .	58,549,000	553,222,000	9 45
Canada . . . . .	5,457,000	50,759,000	9 30
United States . . . . .	80,372,000	640,323,000	7 97

That there is unrest in the United Kingdom is not marvelous, in the light of the figures. Neither will the desire for peace by France be astonishing with her population less than one-half that of the United States, and her per capita more than double. The one important Government approaching the record of the United States is that of Germany, whose Kaiser, while willing to prance at the head of a crack regiment, nevertheless knows the difference between a Protective Tariff and the antiquated Freetrade system of the Kingdom of his uncle, our good cousin, ALBERT EDWARD.

The gratification which Mr. Chamberlain will find in the figures will be in inverse ratio to the lack of comfort they will bring to the British Freetraders. But that is another story. The gratification that gratifies is to the people of the United States.

"DO IT TODAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TODAY, and let that remedy be Dr. Hache's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough, or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure, as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 50c. For sale at Henry W. Ray's Postoffice Drugstore.

Positive Proof From Maysville Can't Be Brushed Lightly Aside

The reader is forced to acknowledge that convincing proof from people in this locality is preeminently ahead of indorsements from everywhere else in our Republic. Read this:

DEAD LETTER LAW

The Old Ordinance About Steamers Whistling at the Wharf

Many years ago an ordinance was passed by the City Council against steamboats, while lying at the wharf, sounding their whistle.

It was passed at the solicitation of friends of the late Dr. John M. Duke, who at the time was seriously ill and not long after died.

His residence at that date was in Front street and almost directly opposite the wharfboat.

It certainly was annoying and irritating to a sick person, and the ordinance was passed for his especial benefit.

At this late day it is obsolete.

There are numerous occasions when steamers now plying between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh bring to our landing large excursion parties of ladies and gentlemen making the round trip and who would be delighted to tour the city for a half an hour or so—as was the custom before this obnoxious ordinance was passed—but are denied the pleasure because the Captain of the boat is not allowed to recall them by sounding the whistle.

Many a dollar would be left in the coffers of our tradesmen in the absence of this dead letter city law.

The railroads have since then invaded the city confines and toot their whistles and ring their bells indiscriminately.

Then why discriminate against the steamboat? Expunge the law. You say it is a dead letter.

So it is. But then a spiteful fellow could cause a boatman a world of trouble so long as it remains a city law.

Wipe it out by repealing the ordinance.

Gago 28.3 and falling.

The Bonanza was the Pomeroy packet last night.

The Keystone State will be up tonight for Pittsburgh.

The Queen City will be down tomorrow from Pittsburgh.

No coal left Pittsburgh Tuesday for the South. Enough water still in the Ohio, but neither coal nor towboats are at headwaters to take advantage of it.

The Iron Age, Mariner, Tom Dodsworth, Valiant, John Moren, Ed Roberts, Pacific and Charles Brown delivered their big tows at Louisville and are on route back to Pittsburgh with empties.

At a meeting of capitalists in Cincinnati a few days ago plans were discussed for harnessing the Ohio river for power and commercial purposes from Pittsburgh to Cairo. The project calls for an expenditure of $50,000,000.

The Cincinnati and Pittsburgh packet line recently completed arrangements with the Lee Line of Memphis for a connection with the Cincinnati and Memphis boat which connects at Cairo with the Memphis and St. Louis boat of the Lee Line.

The Government snagboat E. A. Woolf will start from Cincinnati in a few days, working up the river. There are, so pilots say, many large and small obstructions in the Ohio between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh and while they do not seriously menace navigation, yet they are a source of considerable anxiety and trouble for the man at the wheel of a steamboat.

The Government lighthouse tender Goldenrod has left Cincinnati on her semi-annual trip of inspection, pay and replenishing of the stations along the Ohio river and its tributaries. The trip will be of six weeks duration and about 10,000 miles will be covered in that time. The tributaries which will be inspected are the Kentucky, Salt, Wolf, Cumberland, Tennessee and Green rivers.

REDMEN'S CARNIVAL

Some of the Dolings Proposed for the Second Week in June

The Redmen's Powwow and Summer Carnival, under the auspices of Wyandotte Tribe No. 3, I. O. R. M., will take place on the streets of Maysville the week of June 13th, and we should be prepared to entertain big crowds during that week. This promises to be the only big event of the year, and there will be something doing from early morn to late at night.

For entertainment the Robinson Amusement Company will furnish fourteen high-class shows and six of the best free attractions that money can procure.

Among the shows are "Aimee," "Trilby," the great "London Ghost Show," "Lunette," "Dog and Pony Circus," "An Indian Village," "Glass Palace," "Millie Christine," the living two-headed woman, "Old Plantation," "Roman Stadium," "Ferris Wheel," etc.; among the free attractions: "Dare Devil Carter," in his death-defying plunge for life from the apex of a tower 100 feet high into a tank containing only two feet of water; Mlle. Orocco, Queen of the Spiral Tower; the wonderful Keetch Family, aerialists supreme; a handsome pyrotechnical display every night; Olivette's Royal Italian Band will be heard in daily concerts.

Four big parades will take place during the week—Tuesday, June 14th, the Redmen's Parade, with over 1,000 Indians in costume; Thursday, June 16th, the Merchant's Parade, with every firm in Maysville represented with a beautifully decorated float; Friday, June 17th, Pangeoughnaughisquie Day, and Saturday, June 18th, an Indian Trail, showing how pale-faces are captured and made Indians.

Taken all together, it will make the biggest week of festivity ever known in the history of Maysville. Now everybody get together and "hoost" for this big event.

Lexington societies want a juvenile Court established.

MISS SARAH BELLE WALLER.

The sad news reached here yesterday morning about 9 o'clock that Miss Sarah Belle Waller had died at her home in Cincinnati at 10:45 o'clock Tuesday night.

She had been ill but one week with pneumonia, but on Sunday her condition was so serious that her father and her sister Phoebe went to her bedside.

She was about 25 years of age, and the second daughter of the Rev. Dr. Maurice Waller, the well known Presbyterian Minister. Her mother was a daughter of the late Colonel Charles A. Marshall of Washington.

Surviving, besides the father, are three sisters, Misses Phoebe, Lillie and Lucy; and one brother, Henry, the latter away from home.

Miss Waller was one of the most accomplished young ladies of this community, a graduate of Oxford College, and she had taken special courses in several other noted schools.

For some time she had held the important position of Cataloguer in the Library of Cincinnati University.

The remains were brought to the home here at 1:30 last afternoon, from whence the funeral will occur tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. John Barbour of the First Presbyterian Church.

WILD RIDE

Three Young Men From Washington Have a Close Call

Andrew and Humphreys Taylor, sons of Robert Taylor of Washington, and Frank Wilkes of the same place are students in the Maysville High School.

This morning all three were seated in a buggy coming to school, and when opposite the old Wadsworth place on the Lexington pike the horse frightened at a piece of paper lying in the road and started on a frightful run down the pike.

The boys were thrown out of the buggy and notwithstanding Andrew Taylor was dragged for some distance, they escaped serious injury, being only bruised and scratched about the hands.

The horse was caught in Smoky Hollow.

The only damage to the buggy was the top torn off.

The dragging of Andrew Taylor on the rough pike necessitated the purchase of a new pair of pants.

That one of the three was not killed in their wild ride is fortunate as well as remarkable.
